If you love those who hate you and do good to them, you will be like your Fa-ther a bove.

You will be like your Fa - ther, whose bless-ings rain down on the good and the e - vil a - like.

You will be like God, who has called you friends, though you once were his en - e - mies.

You will be like your Fa - ther, whose bless-ings rain down on the good and the e - vil a - like.
